	(OSPI) to review the current Safety Net process and make recommendations of possible adjustments to improve the Safety net process and to evaluate the appropriate funding level to meet the purpose of Safety Net.
Review of McCleary financial impact on State Special Education funds to school districts (John Bash, ESD 113; Lisa Mathews, ESD 189)	Unpacking EHD 2242 – Special Education & Related Impacts <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increases the maximum funded student percent from 12.7% to 13.5% • Statewide average sped rates are $6,995.56 for 2017-18, and $7,988.17 for 2018-19. • No changes to sped multipliers of .9309 or 1.15, nor the federal funds integration rate. Legislative Updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Several legislators have acknowledged the need for more special education funding. Outside of Special Education not much optimism that more state money will be allocated to K-12. Instead, more likely to see some form of local levy and LEA relief.
Review unfinished business resulting from required activities under WAC 392-172A-07060
Public Comment (Parameters read regarding SEAC parameters of public comment)	Student with disabilities brought concerns regarding the need for general education teachers to be more involved with IEP and accommodations.
